

my bed if I was sleeping!

Surprisingly, Herbert is a vegetarian, so that means he is a herbivore.

He is crazy for salad and carrot sticks with dip. Herbert's razor sharp claws are a structural adaptation that help him climb up trees when he gets scared by barking dogs. Sad, but true, he hides in fear! Herbert is a reptile. You can tell he fits that category because he has scaly skin and hatched out of an egg.

My parents liked him a whole lot better when he was still an egg, but I think he is the best, best, best pet ever!

my bed if I was sleeping!

Surprisingly, Herbert is a vegetarian, so that means he is a herbivore.

He is crazy for salad and carrot sticks with dip. Herbert's razor

sharp claws are a structural adaptation that help him climb up trees when he gets scared by barking dogs. Sad, but true, he hides in fear! Herbert

is a reptile. You can tell he fits that category because he has scaly skin and hatched out of an egg.

My parents liked him a whole lot

better when he was still an egg, but I think he is the best, best, best pet ever!